They came up to town, got drunk, went back and shot Collins five times, killing him almost instantly. The Texans have all been captured, but two, and are now in jail at Kearney Junction. It is probable they will be lynched to-night.

More of the Terrible Texas Storm.

CARSICANA, Texas, Sept. 18.—A wind and rain storm from the north set in here at 10 o'clock Thursday night, lasting until dark yesterday. The rain extended from south of Dallas to the coast. Some little cotton was blown out, but no great damage was done to the crop in this section. Telegraphic communication with Houston, both by the Central and Great Northern roads, is broken, but Houston Friday evening papers were received here this morning, and report the storm still raging there and at Galveston.

On Thursday evening last the Galveston News reported that at 10 o'clock Wednesday night last the wind broke the bridge. The velocity of the wind was reported there at fifty miles an hour and increasing. The Galveston and Santa Fe bridge is washed away and the Galveston and Houston bridge broken, but part of it was still seen extending from the main land. The water extends three miles inland, being higher than in 1867, and telegrams from Highland station at 4 P. M., Thursday, report the wind a hurricane and doing great damage.

In Houston and at Harrisburg the water was within twenty inches of the top of the Navigation Co.'s wharf on Thursday morning and rising an inch an hour.

Grave apprehensions exist in Houston of serious disaster in Galveston.

The railroads are only slightly damaged, and it is expected that trains will be running in a day or two. It is estimated that $20,000 will cover all losses. WASHINGTON CITY.

Frauds in the Pension Bureau.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—A Washington special says one of the special agents of the pension office has just returned from the West. His report made to the commissioner discloses that a remarkable series of wholesale deception has been practiced on the government. He found parties in the receipt of pensions who were not disabled from earning their livelihood, and who could show no trace of wounds or of impaired health. Numerous cases were also discovered of parties personating dead men, and of women falsely representing themselves the widows of deceased soldiers, and drawing pensions as such. The commissioner now states that he is convinced that the government is annually paying from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 to these fraudulent claimants.

A Land Case.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—An official survey of rancho San Juan Cajon De Santa and San Juan Pacific Ontiveras confirmee, in Los Angeles county, was rejected to day by the commissioners of the general land office, and a new survey ordered.

Production of Precious Metals.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—A statement showing the estimated annual production of gold and silver in the United States during the twenty-five years from 1819 to 1873, has been prepared by the bureau of statistics. The annual average production of gold, according to this statement, is $50,800,000, and that of silver for the fifteen years from 1859 to 1873, $13,000,000. The highest annual production of silver was in 1873, when it was $35,750,000. The production of gold has, with the exception of one year, been annually increasing since 1856, and the production of silver has, with the exception of one year, been increasing since 1859, the production of gold and silver in 1873 being almost the same.

Red Cloud Commission—Probability of Two Reports.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The Red Cloud commission spent most of to-day in reviewing the evidence adduced and in discussing the responsibility of the commissioner of Indian affairs and the secretary of the interior for frauds at the Red Cloud Agency, the approval of claims rejected by the board of Indian commissioners, &c. There seems to be no doubt but that there will be two reports, one exonerating the officers named and one holding them responsible for irregularities. Mr. Faulkner, of the commission, entertains views very unfavorable to Commissioner Smith and Secretary Delano, and will not hesitate to express them. It is also believed that Prof. Atherton, who has given the subject very careful consideration, and for some time past has been overhauling files of the interior department, will also sign the minority report. Members of the commission could not say to-day when they would reach a conclusion in regard to the character of the reports or when they would be made.

Thanks of the P. O. Department to Fast Mail Contractors.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Postmaster General Jewell to-day sent the following telegram to Thomas A. Scott: "Please accept the thanks of the department for the rapid dispatch of mails, which was inaugurated on your lines on the 16th inst. No other country, except Russia, can run postal cars 2,000 or 3,000 miles, or half those distances, at a stretch, without running off the edge. Considering the magnitude of our territory, I believe our dispatch of mails is now unequalled."

The postmaster general also sent a telegram to Wm. H. Vanlger, as follows: "Please accept the thanks of the postoffice department of the United States for the facilities you have given it this week. The accuracy, system and speed with which you are now transferring our mails are, I think, unequalled anywhere in the world, and I believe marks an epoch in our progress. I can already perceive and appreciate the advantage of rapid transportation by the responses from our officials, and the public from the Atlantic to the Mississippi.

Negotiations with Insurgents Hopeless.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 18.—Latest advices state that the consuls of Austria, Germany and Italy despair of bringing about negotiations between the Bosnian insurgents and Server Pacha, Turkish commissioner. The English, French and Russian consuls' task lies in Herzegovina, and they are still hopeful, because the insurgents there show a conciliatory disposition. They are, however, unable to give a definite report of the result of their mission until they have interviewed the insurgents in the mountains near Gatchka.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—A special telegram from Cattaro states that the insurrection is not declining in Herzegovina. There have been some sharp encounters near Mastebo and Flevio, in which the Turks were defeated.

Autumn Maneuvers of the German Army—Sham Battle.

LEIGNITZ, Silesia, Sept. 19.—The grand autumn maneuvers of the German army concluded to-day near Leignitz, after three days of sham battle by two army corps, each consisting of 30,000 men, the fifth commanded by General Vonderchback and the sixth by General Tumpling. The ground on which the maneuvers took place was mainly the scene of Blucher's victory over MacDonald, on the Katzbach river, in 1813. The fifth corps represented Blucher's army, and the sixth that of the foe. The sixth was virtually defeated by being prevented from advancing on Leignitz. On the third day the sixth corps succeeded in pressing the fifth back on Leignitz. Each day the scene was brilliant in the extreme. The contest for the passage of the river Katzbach on Friday morning resembled a real more than a sham battle. The battle-ground was nine miles in diameter. The valley of the Katzbach was at times enveloped in smoke from artillery and infantry. The contest concluded to-day by storming of the hights near Rothkirch and resulted in a victory for the sixth corps. The emperor watched the maneuvers, accompanied by Von Moltke. The Americans present were Quartermaster Meigs, his son Lt. Newcomb, Colonels Dickenson and Woodruff. The troops bivouaced on the field of battle, their camp fires extending a circumference of fifteen miles. The whole presented a magnificent spectacle, and in every particular resembled a real battle.

The Insurrection Still Spreading.

VIENNA, Sept. 19.—An insurrection has broken out at Tieboral, near Grachowa. The insurgents burnt the Turkish guardhouse and the garrison fled. The insurrection is said to be spreading in Western Bosnia, and it is rumored that preparations have been made for a general rising.

Turkey's Side of the Story.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 19.—The minister of war has received a dispatch from Ali Pasha, dated Mostar, Sept. 13th, stating that the insurgents were attacked Sept. 8th near Vishegrad, Bosnia, defeated and put to flight. On the battle-field were found passports and other documents which leave no doubt that the Servians intended to declare against Turkey. The Sublime Porte publishes the foregoing, and calls attention to the fact that the insurgents who take refuge in Austria are not disarmed, notwithstanding Turkey's representations.

The English Harvest.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Times this morning says the harvest is nearly at an end. Reports as to the quality of the new wheat are generally good. The markets in Mincing Lane continue quiet. Sugar is depressed and prices favor buyers. James Caird, whom the Times considers high authority, writes that journal as follows: "The publication of the returns of acreage exhibits the smallest breadth of wheat we have had since the returns have been taken, and 500,000 acres less than the average extent previous to 1860, when we had 4,000,000 fewer people. The decrease in Ireland has been 14 per cent. from 1874, and in Great Britain the decrease has been nearly eight per cent. He estimates the amount of wheat required from abroad at 11,050,000 quarters.

A Deliberate Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—About 2 o'clock this morning, a man was run over and instantly killed by the Southern Pacific freight train on Townsend street between Fifth and Sixth. Eye witnesses say the train was backing up when a man crawled from underneath a car on the side track and deliberately lay down on the rails before the approaching train. He was seen, and an effort was made to stop the train, but too late; he was crushed beneath the wheels and dragged about a hundred feet, being almost literally torn to pieces. The remains were taken to the morgue for identification. He was well dressed, and had in his pocket cards and memoranda, from which it is supposed that he was a florist or nurseryman named Rudolph Micholson, in the employ of Fred'k Ludeman & Co., of Pacific Nursery, corner Baker and Lombard streets.

There was the usual parade of stock this morning, the numbers being considerably increased by fresh arrivals.

The first race of to-day was for the purse of $750; 2:26 class. Entries—San Bruno, Dan Voorhees, and Mary Davis. Voorhees was favorite in the pools. In the first heat Bruno got the pole, and kept the lead, passing the string thirty yards ahead of Voorhees, Mary Davis barely saving her distance; time, 2:31½. Second heat—Bruno again took and kept the lead, coming in five or six lengths ahead; Voorhees second; time, 2:31. Third heat—Bruno and Voorhees made a dead heat in 2:32; Mary Davis distanced. Fourth heat—Voorhees broke four times, but on the home stretch led Bruno half a length, till within twenty feet of the score, when the latter shot ahead, winning by half a length in 2:31.

The next race was a trot for 2:35 class, for a purse of $750. Entries—Sorrel Frank, H. Moor, Prince Allen, St. Helena, Lou, Whipple, Tom Morgan and American Maid. Sorrel Frank had the pole, and carried 24½ pounds overweight, when the horses had position in the above order of names. Prince Allen was favorite in the pools. Whipple second. First heat—Won by Prince Allen in 2:29½; Whipple second, Helena third, Frank fourth, Moor fifth, Maid sixth, and Morgan seventh. Helena was now withdrawn on account of lameness. In the second heat Allen soon drew ahead, and passed the score a length ahead of Whipple; time, 2:30¼. Whipple second, Frank, Maid, and Moor in order, with Morgan distanced. At the start on the third heat Allen was ahead, but Whipple collared him on the last turn, and trotted neck and neck down the home stretch, but Allen made a spurt, and won the heat by a neck; Whipple second, Maid third, Frank fourth, and Moor fifth; time, 2:30.

Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas of Chicago lately preached a sermon on "The Country's need," which comes much nearer to the practical side of the question than is usual in this class of discourses, showing less of the library and more actual observation of and sympathy with the spirit and culture of the times. This is his summing up of the needs of the country, as reported in the Chicago Times:

Continued progress in social and religious liberty; the prompt obliteration of all sectional differences and irritations; the lifting of political life from the possession of mere party to the plane of patriotism and statesmanship; and the exaltation and unification of our national character. Our religious needs are: Some system which will bring the entire population under some form of religious teaching. This, however, is admitted to be a work of extreme difficulty, owing to the great diversity of creeds; but he thinks there may be some general doctrines of Deity, Christ, the Bible, and the future life, concerning which there may be a "broad catholicity of spirit" and an emphasis placed upon attaining what is "common, essential, universal in religion," and upon what "saves the soul from sin and lends to purity of life; and let such salvation, or the desire to attain it, be open to all communions."

THE TERRITORIES.

Stanley Basin and Loon creek camps, in the Boise country, have been deserted by the miners.

Eight teams of 8 mules each left Boise valley last week, with wagons loaded with hides, for Kelton.

Gen. Milroy has been officially notified of his appointment as agent of the Nisqually, Puyallup and Chehalis Indians. He fills the position recently held by the late H. D. Gibson.

The freight tariff on the Walla Walla and Wallula railroad has been reduced from $3 75 to $3 per ton. The road is now completed from Wallula to a point within five miles of Walla Walla city.

The Silver City Avalanche, of Sept. 13th, says: "A Frenchman named Eugene Melville met with an accident at an early hour this morning in the Illinois Central, by which he lost his life. He fell from the third level to the bottom of the shaft, into which he had wandered, not being aware at the time that the shaft was so near. In his fall the body struck the bucket at the bottom, dividing it in two and causing instant death. Other parts of his body were terribly bruised."

While the horse men were training their horses on the Boise City track, John Young turned his horse Amit loose to see him run around. Several other riders were on their horses a short distance off, and tried to get out of the way. Among them was Lieu Whittlemore, rider on his sorrel horse called Buckskin, from Walla Walla, and not being able to get far enough way, Amit struck Buckskin on the gambol joint with his fore foot, cutting a horrible gash, and it is thought severed some of the cords, which, if true, Buckskin is ruined. At any rate, he is laid up for this season.

Albert Tudor was found dead on Willow creek, 18 miles from Boise City, on the 11th inst. He had been herding sheep for Mr. Hailey, and had fallen off a bank, breaking his neck. Mr. Tudor was formerly from a small town in Monroe county, near Rochester, New York. He was a man of fine attainments, and he has had many ups and downs, having been quite well off several times. In an early day he was purser on the Columbia river, in the employ of the O. S. N. Co. He was also quartermaster's clerk at one time at Fort Colville, and later owned a tannery at Oregon City.

FARMING ITEMS.

A grand harvest ball is to be given Oct. 1st, at Junction City.

Hop picking in Lane county is about over. The yield is very good.

The hoodlums of Polk county are raiding extensively on the watermelons of the farmers about Dallas.

A young man named Gwin working near Dallas, had a pitchfork run through his leg the other day.

Eight threshing machines were in operation one day last week, in the fields by the side of the road leading from Independence to Dallas.

Messrs. Waldron & Co., of The Dalles, have purchased thirty-one head of merino bucks lately imported from Vermont by Mr. George Hammond, for which they paid $1,800.

The last work was done upon the farmers' new warehouse at Independence, last Monday, and it is now fully ready to receive wheat. It has a capacity of 50,000 bushels above, in bins, and 70,000 bushels sacked wheat below, making 120,000 bushels total capacity.

I. W. Berry, who arrived from Fort Klamath last week, states that a person driving a large band of sheep into Lake county some days ago, lost over 200 of them while crossing the mountains. He had men out looking for them, with prospects of success.

Young River Grange No. 172, P. of H., offers as a premium, a seed drill or some other suitable agricultural implement, to the man or woman who will produce the best history, from actual observation, of the habits of the army worm, and the best means for preventing its work of destruction.

At a meeting of the Masters and Matrons of Clatsop county, Sept. 11, 1875, at Patrons' Hall, on Clatsop Plains, the following representatives for Clatsop county were elected to attend the State Grange, P. of H., to assemble at Portland, Oregon, on the fourth Tuesday, 27th day, of September, 1875: Patron A. H. and Matron Josephine M. Sale, Worthy Master and Pomona of Young's River Grange No. 172.

LETTER FROM JACKSONVILLE.

THOSE "FORCIBLE AND TELLING SENTENCES" OF LANE'S—GOOD IMPRESSION MADE BY WARREN—WHITNEY CONVERTS A DEMOCRATIC SINNER—LANE DODGES THE SCHOOL QUESTION AND LOSES VOTES.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 15, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your DAILY OREGONIAN of the 13th inst. you referred to a letter written from Jacksonville to the Evening Journal, criticising the speech of Mr. Warren delivered in this place on the 8th inst. I shall only say in reply to that letter, that Mr. Warren made a good impression upon those not prejudiced against every man that is not a professed time-serving Democrat. He made no attempt at oratorical display, but spoke in a plain, common-sense manner, which won for him many friends. In regard to the speech of Mr. Lane, I will say that your comments, on the 13th inst., in reference to his style of speaking, are correct in every respect. In fact his speech was made up of the old Democratic twaddle, the same as I have listened to since the surrender of Lee. The old stale assertion that has been used by every Democratic stump speaker since the close of the war was again rehashed to us: "Every table cloth you eat upon is taxed by this radical administration; the dishes you eat from, the cups and saucers you drink your tea and coffee from, are taxed; the coffee you drink is taxed," &c. Doubtless every reader of the OREGONIAN is familiar with the above, which, in all probability, is one of those "forcible and telling sentences" referred to by the Journal's correspondent.

Mr. Whitney, who made the closing speech, did very well, considering the fact that he had nothing to talk about. He spoke highly of Mr. Lane; so much so that it was evident he was laboring in the interest of that gentleman. At the close of his speech he informed his hearers that he had not found an Independent man in Jackson county, whereupon an old worker in Democratic harness gracefully rose and informed Whitney that he was on it. At the close of the meeting Mr. Whitney extended to his convert the right hand of fellowship and welcomed him in the ranks of the Independent party. The conversion of this old Democratic sinner evidently inspired him with double assurances of his ultimate election to congress.

From present indications, I am confident Lane will get a much less vote in this county than at first anticipated by his friends. I have heard quite a number of staunch Democrats declare they will not go to the polls upon the day of election, on account of their dissatisfaction with the manner in which Lane dodged the school question in his speech in this place.

Y.

Speaking of the present political campaign in New York, the Times of Sept. 8th remarks: The results of the election this year more than ever before will depend upon the personal character of the man nominated for office. As a reason for this it may be stated that there is a large and growing class of citizens in the interior of the state who are opposed to supporting any man for the sake of party, but who will give their votes to any honest and capable candidate, irrespective of politics. They want reform and an honest government, and they care very little under what political name it is given to them.

OREGON.

A hedgehog was captured near Gervais last week.

The new flouring mill, in Tygh valley, Wasco county, is in operation.

The people of Independence and Buena Vista, Polk county, want, need and ought to have a daily mail.

The owners of the Empire will soon place another steamer on the Coos Bay line, in place of the lost Eastport.

A party of three men have lately discovered gold placer mines on a small stream that heads up at Mount Hood.

It is thought the taxable property in Marion county, according to the assessment roll, will be $1,000,000 more this year than it was last.

The Statesman says there is a great deal of sickness in Salem at present, many of the cases being typhoid fever of a malignant type.

We are in receipt of the first number of the Daily Mercury, issued at Salem, by E. L. Bristow. A prospectus for a daily at Astoria is also at hand.

A new township of land has just been surveyed in Clatsop county, near the head of Lewis and Clarke river. It is reported to be good bottom lands along the river, and level table lands.

W. W. Piper, architect of the state capitol, is busily engaged in drawing up the designs for the interior finish of that building. Those for the senate chamber are completed and are very handsome.

A bear attempted to swim South Slough, Coos county, last week, and was killed with rocks, clubs, etc., by Messrs. Kane and Mooney, assisted by some boys. They actually worried Bruin out.

The receipts of the treasurer of Polk county during the last fiscal year, were $30,240 coin, and $609 currency. Expenditures $26,129 coin, leaving a balance of $4,111 coin, and $609 currency in the treasury.

The second session of the Lane county Teachers' Institute will be held in Eugene City on Friday and Saturday, the 1st and 2d days of October, 1875. Public examination of teachers Thursday, the 30th day of September.

The variations of the magnetic needle in the recent surveys by department surveyors in Clatsop county is positive proof of the existence of a large body of iron ore in the vicinity of Lewis and Clarke river, within 12 miles of Astoria.

A petition is in circulation at The Dalles to be forwarded to General Howard, commander of this military department, in behalf of William Kraipzinoki (known here as George Fisher), who we mentioned last week as having been arrested for deserting from the army.

On Monday morning last week Mr. M. M. Cushing, of The Dalles, met with a very severe accident by the running away of his team on Third street. He was thrown out of his wagon and received a severe cut on the head besides a number of bruises on the body. His horses were badly used up.

The residence of Mr. George Simmons, of Waldo, Josephine county, was destroyed by fire on Thursday, Sept. 9th. The fire was discovered between the ceiling and roof, about twenty feet from the stove-pipe, while the family were at dinner. It burned so rapidly that little or nothing was saved, although Mr. Simmons was badly burned about the head in his endeavors to extinguish the fire, or save some of his household effects.

The Hillsboro Independent says the population of Washington county in 1860 was 2,801; in 1870, 4,261; and in 1875, 5,136. Counting the same increase for the next five years that there has been for the five past, in 1880 Washington county will have a population of 6,000. The ratio of increase for the ten years from 1860 to 1870 and the five years from 1870 to 1875 is nearly equal, the rate of increase for the decade from 1860 to 1870 and the five years past of the present decade being about 34 per cent.

The board of state lands commissioners have lately had under consideration the application of Capt. L. N. English to purchase, as overflowed lands, a small sand island in the Wallamet river, below the mouth of Mill creek. After due consideration the decision arrived at is that said island does not come within the purview of the act of congress of March 12th, 1869, which granted swamp and overflowed lands to the state, but that it belongs to the state of Oregon by right of eminent domain, and that no law of the state legislature has been passed to authorize the board to sell it to any person.

The six new booths constructed on the state fair grounds since the others were auctioned off were sold last Friday. Following is a list of the purchasers and the prices paid: Matt Keith, Portland, $52; C. J. Handley, McMinnville, $56; J. Dickinson, Salem, $33; John Carman, Butteville, $26 50; J. Bridgeford, Scio, $22; L. S. Scott, Salem, $39. One of the parties who purchased a booth at the sale of Aug. 27th, for $75, wishing to go east of the mountains, had his money refunded, and the booth being offered for sale, was bid off by Kuhn & Webber, of Albany, for the sum of $87. Martin & Sayers secured the restaurant at a rental of $125.

The Farmer says: A few days ago, Agent Sinnott, of Grand Ronde reservation, was in Salem with an excellent spring wagon, that would pass muster anywhere as a handsome and well-built vehicle, which he informed us was the entire handiwork of two Indians, one of the Umpqua and the other of the Wapato tribes, named Dave Leno and Lewis, who did the wood work, ironed it, painted it with excellent taste, putting on some fancy work, and in fact made the complete vehicle in every respect. Mr. O. A. Brown informs us that these same Indians will have completed for exhibition at the state fair another buggy, which they will leave unpainted to invite criticism.

A meeting was held at Coquille City on the 28th ultimo, and resolutions were passed, in which every part of Southern Oregon is invited to co-operate in aiding this undertaking. A committee was appointed to circulate petitions and collect funds, and also to solicit proposals for the work of improving Coquille river, such proposals, with the petition, to be presented to congress. Authentic information will accompany said petition, setting forth the "feasibility, utility and necessity of the proposed improvement, the capacity of the river, the extent and importance of the country to be benefited, and the amount of natural wealth to be opened to the markets of the world thereby."

The assessor of Washington county has made his return, and from it the Independent gathers the following county statistics: Number of legal voters, 1,204; legal voters 21 years and upward, 1,573; under 21 and over 10 years, 739; under 10 years, 828; total males, 2,839; number females 18 years and upward, 1,039; under 18 and over 10, 452; under 10, 756; total females, 2,297; total males, 2,839; total population, 5,136; acres of land in cultivation, 27,824; number bushels of wheat raised, 206,029; oats, 251,976; barley, 1,305; rye, 273; tons of hay, 7,748; pounds of wool, 48,624; bushels of corn, 2,370; potatoes, 42,491; apples, 40,665; sheep, 10,179; hogs, 7,740; horses, 2,438; mules, 84; cattle, 6,435; pounds of tobacco, 3,818; feet of lumber, 1,557,000; pounds of cheese, 2,225; pounds of butter, 95,286.

The assessment of Linn county for the year 1875 is completed and the tax levy made. Last year the taxable property of the county, as returned by the assessor, footed up $4,565,776; and the levy was 15½ mills on the dollar, of which amount the state claimed 5½ mills, and the school fund 3 mills, leaving 7 mills for county purposes. From that sum of 7 mills the county authorities paid over $20,000 of indebtedness, and at the close of the fiscal year ending July 1, 1875, had $14,476 77 remaining in the treasury. The taxable property for this year is returned by the assessor at $3,982,198, being $583,580 less than last year; but it must be remembered that the property of Linn county was last year assessed higher than almost any other county in the state, while this year it looks a little like the assessor had gone to the other extreme, making the assessment remarkably low. The Democrat so says.

GENERAL NOTES.

What is the best way of making a coat last? Make the trowsers and waitcoasts first.

"John, I came very near selling my shoes the other day," said one man to another. "How was that?" "Why, I had them half soled."

Some ingenious observer has discovered that there is a remarkable resemblance between a baby and wheat, since it is a cradled, then thrashed, and finally becomes the flour of the family.

"Hoop 'em lively!" yelled a rowdy listener at campmeeting in Dane county, as the enthusiasm was at its height. The brethren "hooped" the intruder about half a mile away, and held his head under water in a mill pond until he agreed to go back and be converted.—Milwaukee News.

A youngster being required to write a composition upon some portion of the human body, selected that which unites the head to the body, and expounded as follows: "A throat is convenient to have, especially to roosters and ministers. The former eats corn and crows with it; the latter preaches through his'n, and then ties it up. This is pretty much all I can think of about necks."

A little boy wanted to borrow his aunt's dog for a moment, and asked her to let him have a piece of string so he could lead him. "What are you going to do with him?" said the good lady. The boy hesitated for a moment, and then said: "Well, you see a boy round the corner bet me his dog was a larger dog than yours." "Well," said the aunt, "suppose it turns out that his dog is the larger one?" "Then," said the nephew, "you'll lose your dog."

RELIGIOUS ITEMS.

The new Christian church at Independence is about finished.

The pews of the Methodist church in Boise City are to be rented.

A Methodist church building will shortly be erected at Independence.

O. Coolidge recently sold to some parties from Jacksonville a site for a Catholic church at Ashland. The plat is north of town, and $200 was the price paid for it.

A religious newspaper having published an article reflecting very severely upon Mr. Beecher, the Plymouth pastor, read a paragraph from the article, in one of his sermons at Twin Mountain, and added:

There is Christianity—a lovely instance of it. I have no answer to give that. If that man dies in the spirit of mind in which he now is I shall never meet him, but if he changes and goes to heaven the first thing he will say to me there will be:

"I am sorry for that mean article I wrote."

The main plank in the platform adopted by the Prohibitionists of Delaware county, Pennsylvania, reads as follows:

Resolved, That the proper and legitimate object of drinking is to quench thirst, and for that purpose water is peculiarly adapted to man's appetite. And never, since that beautiful river flowed through the Paradise of God for the supply of the first pair of mankind, down to the present moment, has anything been so well fitted to slake the thirst of man as water, pure and unadulterated.

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 20, 1875.

LAFAYETTE LANE, POLITICIAN.

In the summer of 1874 a marriage was consummated in Douglas county which shocked the moral sense of community in view of the prior relations of the contracting parties. We allude to the marriage of the Democratic and Republican organizations. The banns had been duly published in the form of a call for simultaneous meetings of the conventions of the two parties, and an avowed purpose on the part of the leaders on both sides to take upon them those conjugal relations which, under the circumstances, could not be otherwise than adulterous. The object of the marriage was to thwart the efforts of the people, who were demanding reforms which both parties to the marriage were interested in opposing. The nuptials were celebrated with due formality, and the happy politicians went on their honey-moon tour together to urge the voters at large to approve and ratify the act. To the credit of the intelligent people of Douglas county it is a part of recorded history that, instead of ratifying, they repudiated it in toto, and the politicians found themselves and their defilement at the close of the canvass the most completely in disgrace of any set of free-lovers ... miscuously with and among each other. It is not the repudiation of the polygamous and polyandrous cohabitation of these Monks of Medenham that we purpose to notice particularly just at this time, but the part taken in the performance by an individual of some present prominence, and his present conduct toward some of those with whom he sustained the disgusting relationship. One of the leaders who did the wooing and consummated the marriage on the Democratic side was Lafayette Lane, now the Democratic candidate for Congress. Of all that phalanstery of free-lusters he was the most conspicuous. He traversed the country like a traveling showman, during the whole period of the honey-moon, which lasted from the day of the wedding to the day of the election, telling the people what a good thing it was, and how very greatly himself and all others who had spoken ill of the Republicans had misunderstood and wronged that really excellent class of citizens. No such amorous addresses had ever been heard in that region before, and the efforts of Mr. Lane were pointed to, after the election, by the people, as proof that he possessed more than ordinary talents in one direction at least. He could fairly outherod Herod in his praises of the Republican party. Feeble in all his efforts theretofore, this new-born passion for the embraces of the Republicans imparted a strength and force to his character that enabled him to "bestride the narrow world like a colossus," while the petty men of ordinary mould walked under his huge legs.

But this passionate lover was as fickle as passionate. Only one short year has passed, and yet they do say all his praises have turned to philippics, his madrigals to maledictions. Those who hear him say he is as vindictive now as he was affectionate then toward everything that savors of Republicanism. There is nothing too bad for him to say of the party he voted with and for a year ago. We have before us a copy of the ticket which Mr. Lane peddled and advocated in Douglas county, and among the names on it are a number of the most pronounced Republicans in that section of the State. He is now telling the people that the principles of the Republican party are subversive of free government and dangerous to the liberties of the people. With the abatement of his love for the Republicans has come also an abatement of the inspiration that raised him above respectable mediocrity; but to the best of his ability he is essaying to make the people believe there is nothing they can do which will more imperil their rights and damage their future prospects, than to elect Henry Warren to Congress; and all for no other reason than that Warren is a Republican.

In view of the conduct of Mr. Lane in the very recent past, it is pertinent to ask him what change has taken place within the last year, whereby the Republicans, then so worthy of all confidence, are no longer to be trusted? What new and dangerous principle has been embodied in their platforms? What new species of corruption has been developed in their administration of public affairs? All the changes that others have seen in the party within that time are changes for the better. They have added nothing to their platform of principles except an express condemnation of the third-term scheme, and surely it is not that that turned Lane against them. In their practices, as is admitted on all hands, they have given more evidence of a desire to reform abuses and punish corruption than they had given for a long time before. Is that what unsettles the confidence of Mr. Lane in them? In nominating Henry Warren for Congress they put on record their first recognition of the demand the people of this State have been making for a higher standard of personal character in party nominees. Is that the wrong they have committed against Mr. Lane? We suspect the explanation of Mr. Lane's sudden change from the bitterest of enemies to the warmest of friends of the Republican party, and his equally sudden change back to his old enmity, is simpler than any of those suggestions. A year ago he thought there might be a chance to gain political power and position by uniting with the Republican party, and he did it. Now the way to power and position seems to be through abuse and denunciation of the Republican party, and he does that. It is for the voters of Oregon to say whether they desire to be represented in Congress by a man whose principles set so lightly upon him that they can be put aside without inconvenience whenever it appears to be to his advantage to put them aside.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The Democratic organs find their strongest argument for the election of Lane, in the influence which it is assumed this election will have on the state election next June. In this view the public school question is of peculiar importance. While it is true that Lane as congressman could do nothing directly to divert the public school funds to sectarian purposes, it is true also that the next legislature can inaugurate that change by setting the necessary constitutional amendment on foot, and can also, if it shall so desire, practically destroy our common school system. The question is one of increasing moment, because the attack on the common school system throughout the United States is already organized and the Democracy of Oregon have not expressed any opposition to it. A subject so clearly and definitely before the country could scarcely have been ignored by the state convention of the party, without a purpose in so doing. And to strengthen the presumption thus raised that they are in sympathy with the movement in opposition to the public schools, we have the equivocal course of Mr. Lane, who declines to come out squarely for the schools. If the election of Lane is to secure the ascendancy of the anti-school party, let that calamity be averted by defeating Lane.

The Christians of Servia do not readily submit to terms of compromise which, while giving them temporary relief from the wrongs of which they have complained, will still leave them at the mercy of their Moslem masters. It is a shame to Christian civilization that any outside pressure should be brought to bear to compel them ... submit to the yoke of less than four millions of Mohammedans. If these European subjects of an Asiatic despot were only allowed to work out their own salvation, the struggle would end in the overthrow of Turkish rule in Europe, and the establishment of a new nation, quite as able to maintain its existence as some already in existence. The Greek Catholics and the Roman Catholics could get along together in peace, but subjection to the rule of Islam, and denial of all rights of citizenship, is regarded by them as an intolerable oppression.

The trial of Wertervelt on a charge of kidnapping Charley Ross, has failed to throw any light on the question which interests the public most in connection with that mysterious affair. It is pretty well settled that the kidnappers were the burglars Mosher and Douglass, and, they having gone to their last account, the whereabouts of the abducted child, if he is still alive, is rendered the more difficult to ascertain. On this question the Westervelt trial affords no information whatever.

An individual signing the name of "Harrisburger," writes to the Statesman that the OREGONIAN is losing all its subscribers in Linn county. If that threadbare falsehood gives any comfort to the Statesman, or the writer, we wish them great joy in it. As an act of neighborly kindness, however, we warn the Statesman of the danger it is in. That fellow "Harrisburger" committed the same sort of Harrisburgery on the Bulletin three or four times, and it died.

We have received a copy of Hon. A. B. Meacham's book, "Wigwam and War Path," but have not yet had time to examine it sufficiently to speak of its merits.

(Carminative)

For Diarrhœa and Dysentery use Dr. Jayne's Carminative Balsam. As changes of climate or water, and indiscretions in eating often produce these complaints, travelers and others should always keep a bottle of this remedy by them. It never fails to subdue the most violent attacks, and it is equally serviceable for Cramps in the Stomach or Bowels, Griping Pains, &c.

For Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and Colic use Dr. Jayne's Carminative Balsam. It removes all soreness of the abdomen, allays the irritation and calms the action of the Stomach. It may always be relied on to give immediate relief, and besides being effectual, is a pleasant and safe remedy, easily administered to children.

For Asiatic Cholera and all Bowel Affections use promptly Dr. Jayne's Carminative Balsam. It checks the Diarrhœa, suppresses the Cramps which generally accompany attacks of Cholera,—and conquers the disease in its incipiency. It has frequently been administered in neighborhoods where the Cholera has been raging epidemically, and it has seldom failed to give immediate and permanent relief. The Carminative has maintained its reputation as a Curative for nearly forty years, is equally effective in all latitudes, and as a Standard Household Remedy, should be kept in every family.

CITY.

PRESENTATIONS.—Capt. M. Auld, master of the handsome ship City of York, which so narrowly escaped destruction by fire on the evening of Sept. 4th, in order to express in a substantial manner his gratitude to the fire department of Portland, for the prompt and efficient service rendered him and his on that occasion, presented Chief Engineer Hallock last Saturday evening with a very handsome gold badge, bearing the proper inscription. Geo. A. Young's saloon, on First street, was selected as the place, and 9 o'clock the hour, for making the presentation. At the same time and place the members of Columbian Engine Company, No. 3, were presented with an elegant silver ice pitcher by Mr. Thos. F. Tilden, as a substantial acknowledgment of the great services rendered the ship and cargo by that excellent fire brigade. The presentations were made in the presence of about forty persons, invited guests. Amongst those present were Chief Engineer Hallock, First Assistant W. A. Hart, Mr. Morgan, foreman of Protection Company, No. 4; C. E. Dubois, foreman of Vigilance Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1; Harry Chapman, foreman of Willamette Company, No. 1; Thos. A. Jordon, foreman of Columbian Company, No. 3; Mr. H. D. Sanborn, of No. 2; several other prominent firemen of the city, and the captains of the vessels Elektra, Berar, and City of Hankow. About 9 o'clock a splendid lunch was served up in the back room of the saloon, of which all present were cordially invited to partake. After the viands were discussed, the meeting was called to order by Mr. Sanborn. When the clatter of knives and forks had ceased, that gentleman, in a few brief but pointed remarks stated the object for which those present were assembled, and introduced Capt. Auld, of the City of York. The captain then arose, and after repeatedly thanking the members of the Portland fire department for their prompt and gallant efforts to extinguish the fire on board his ship on the evening of Sept. 4th, and to save the cargo, presented to Mr. Hallock, as the head of the department, an elegant badge, which bore the following significant inscription: "From Capt. Matthew Auld to A. B. Hallock, chief engineer P. F. D., for extinguishing fire on board ship City of York, Sept. 4th, 1875. Columbian Engine Co., No. 3, rendering valuable assistance." On the opposite side of the medal, a ship under a full press of canvas, was engraved, below which were the words, "City of York." The badge is made of gold, and of handsome design and splendid workmanship. Receiving the elegant token of appreciation from the hands of Capt. Auld, Mr. Hallock responded in behalf of the whole department, in his usual felicitous manner. No sooner was the toast "To the health of Capt. Auld," proposed and drank by all present, than Mr. Sanborn stated that Mr. Thomas F. Tilden, who being desirous of showing in a substantial manner his appreciation of the gallantry displayed by the members of Columbian Co. No. 3, in saving the cargo on board the ship as well as to extinguish the fire, proposed to present to that company a fitting testimonial. The present consisted of a massive silver ice-pitcher of beautiful design and carved and chased in very elaborate style. Mr. C. E. DuBois, of Vigilance H. & L. Co., made the presentation speech, couched in brief but appropriate language. Mr. Thos. A. Jordon, foreman of Columbian Co. No. 3, received the handsome token, and responded in proper style in behalf of that company. The pitcher bore the following inscription: "Compliments of Thos. F. Tilden, in remembrance of the fire on board City of York." Short speeches were then made by Mr. Robt. Holman, of No. 4, Mr. Wm. Young, of No. 3, Thomas F. Tilden and others. After drinking to the health of everybody present, and pledging a lifelong friendship over bumpers of sparkling and soul-inspiring champagne, the party broke up, but not until they had given three hearty cheers to Capt. Auld for his generous hospitalities shown, and united in ardent wishes of a speedy, safe and properous voyage across the Atlantic to his native shores. It was a most pleasantly conducted party, and participants will long cherish the memory of the happy hours passed in the society of Capt. Auld, of the good ship City of York.

STEAM TUG "GEN. CANBY."—This tug, recently constructed at Shoalwater bay, of which frequent mention has been made in the OREGONIAN, arrived here on Saturday morning from Astoria. She came hither for the purpose of being inspected by Messrs. Flanders and Lolan, United States inspectors. In addition to the crew, the Gen. Canby brought to this city a pleasure party of some ten or twelve ladies and gentlemen, who came over on the trial trip as excursionists. The dimensions of the Gen. Canby are, length, 93 feet; beam, 18 8-10 feet; hold, 7 2 10 feet; registered capacity, 76 9-100 tons. The boat will draw about 7½ feet. Mr. J. J. Whelan, of San Francisco, is the builder, and he has proven in the most unmistakable manner his claim to the title of a master workman. The model is almost faultless, and the boat throughout is constructed in the strongest possible manner. A more handsome and staunch craft has not been built on the Northwestern coast for many years than the Gen. Canby. Both boiler and machinery were built in San Francisco, and correspond in strength and durability to the tug. The boiler is made of uncommonly heavy plate iron—expressly to withstand the action of the salt water—powerfully bolted together. It is 15 feet long and 6 feet in diameter. The engine is 18 inches in diameter and 20 inches stroke, and is equal to 100 horse power. The propeller is 7 feet in diameter and has three flukes. There are attached to the engine one line pump, one force pump and one steam Hooker pump. Mr. E. W. Doty is the engineer. Not only does the Gen. Canby promise to be of great service to the joint stock company to whom she belongs as a tug, but the craft bids fair in point of speed to "hold her own" against the fastest boats on the waters. Originally the Gen. Canby was built expressly as a passenger boat to run from Astoria to Unity, and thus secure regular service between those points. Subsequently her owners concluded to place her about the waters of Shoalwater Bay and the mouth of the Columbia river. However, it is safe to say that the new boat will be used wherever her services will be of the greatest value to the company. At any time when trips are not made regularly between Astoria and Unity, the new boat will probably be placed on that route. Superior passenger accommodations have been provided, so that persons who desire to travel on a comfortable and safe boat, can select the Gen. Canby. Capt. J. H. Whitcomb will have command of the boat, although at present Capt. Johnson is in charge. Steam was raised yesterday afternoon, and the Gen. Canby made a short trip up the river. She sits on the water like a duck, and cleaves her way like a traditional "thing of life." In a few days when the inspectors shall have examined the hull and boiler—the Gen. Canby will proceed down the river ready to report for active service at a moment's notice.

CITY.

PRESENTATIONS.—Capt. M. Auld, master of the handsome ship City of York, which so narrowly escaped destruction by fire on the evening of Sept. 4th, in order to express in a substantial manner his gratitude to the fire department of Portland for the prompt and efficient service rendered him and his on that occasion, presented Chief Engineer Hallock last Saturday evening with a very handsome gold badge, bearing the proper inscription. Geo. A. Young's saloon, on First street, was selected as the place, and 9 o'clock the hour, for making the presentation. At the same time and place the members of Columbian Engine Company, No. 3, were presented with an elegant silver ice pitcher by Mr. Thos. F. Tilden, as a substantial acknowledgment of the great services rendered the ship and cargo by that excellent fire brigade. The presentations were made in the presence of about forty persons, invited guests. Amongst those present were Chief Engineer Hallock, First Assistant W. A. Hart, Mr. Morgan, foreman of Protection Company, No. 4; C. E. Dubois, foreman of Vigilance Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1; Harry Chapman, foreman of Willamette Company, No. 1; Thos. A. Jordon, foreman of Columbian Company, No. 3; Mr. H. D. Sanborn, of No. 2; several other prominent firemen of the city, and the captains of the vessels Elektra, Berar, and City of Hankow. About 9 o'clock a splendid lunch was served up in the back room of the saloon, of which all present were cordially invited to partake. After the viands were discussed, the meeting was called to order by Mr. Sanborn. When the clatter of knives and forks had ceased, that gentleman, in a few brief but pointed remarks stated the object for which those present were assembled, and introduced Capt. She came hither for the purpose of being inspected by Messrs. Flanders and Lotan, United States inspectors. In addition to the crew, the *Gen. PASSENGERS COMING.—The steamer, John L. Stephens, which sailed last Saturday from San Francisco, brings hither the following passengers: Thos. S. Carr and wife, Miss Hattie Bacon, C. P. Osgood, Thos. Roulan, A. Beck and family, Mrs. Wm. Gullick and child, T. Swandy, C. P. Church, E. L. Powell, A. Goldsmith, F. R. Huber, Otto Fox, A. A. Cohn, B. L. Morrison, Mrs. W. W. Martin, Mrs. M. B. Parker, D. M. French, G. P. Terrill, J. S. White, W. Brewster, J. Gehan, Mrs. E. A. Low and 2 children, Miss S. J. Almendinger, J. F. Galbraith, wife and 6 children, L. Richer, G. H. Collier, H. Eakin, Capt. Alex. Kidd, W. H. Heyward, Mrs. Bridget Gallagher, Miss M. Latham, Miss Dora Blake, Miss Josie Williams, Miss Gertie David.

ONEONTA SCHOTTISCHE.—Some weeks ago, Mr. Chas. Bray, the popular musician and talented composer, produced a piece of music, which he called "The Two Orphan Schottische." For certain reasons he has changed the name to "The Oneonta Schottische," and has also made arrangements with Mr. Geo. L. DePrans to have it published soon. A well-known amateur vocalist, of this city, will soon take his departure for Liverpool, and he has concluded to take a copy of Mr. Bray's composition to England, for the purpose of having it issued by one of the large publishing houses there.

BOAT CHANGED.—Early yesterday morning the steamer Oneonta was taken down to the boneyard, where, we understand, she will be placed on the ways and be thoroughly overhauled from kelson to hurricane deck. The handsome and rapid steamer Emma Hayward will take the line until the Oneonta is ready for service.

THE FIRE OF YESTERDAY.—Dense volumes of black smoke were seen to issue from the wharf and warehouse of Messrs. Carter and Grover, at the foot of Alder street yesterday, about 12:30 o'clock. A moment later and the startling cry of "fire" broke upon the still Sabbath air and was passed from mouth to mouth. An instant after, the general alarm was sounded from box No. 13. Guided by the huge clouds of smoke which rose higher and higher and unfolded their black wreaths in the misty atmosphere, as well as the box from which the alarm was struck, the department had no difficulty in ascertaining the location of the destroyer, and lost no time in hastening to the scene. The warehouse was occupied by Messrs. Everding & Farrell, the well known produce dealers. By some chance fire was communicated to the piles of baled hay which were stored in the second story of the wharf, and when first discovered the flames were increasing with alarming strides. The building was closed, and the flames thus pent up between roof, floor and walls, surged wildly to and fro and sought vainly to gain an outlet. When the department reached the scene no fire was visible, but the blinding and suffocating volumes of smoke which poured through the cracks gave unmistakeable indications of the presence of the fiery element within. Willamette, No. 1, reached the scene first, having the advantage of being nearest the fire, and reeled off the hose, preparatory to sending through the water. However the hose was not sufficiently long to enable those at the nozzle to direct the stream on the building in which the fire was raging, so it was necessary to "vast" and attach another section. Meantime Columbian No. 3 got everything in trim and sent on the burning building a stream, thus entitling them to the honor of the "first water." Hundreds of gallons of water were soon being thrown on and about the warehouse through half a dozen nozzles, and all apprehensions that the fire would be communicated to surrounding buildings were shortly allayed. For a long time the firemen labored at a very serious disadvantage, and but little if any perceptible headway was made. Presently the flames burst through the roof and sides of the doomed building, and the fiery tongues of the destroyer leaped defiantly heavenward and seemed to laugh in derision at the efforts made by the brave firemen to quench them. But when once the fire "showed its head," it was quickly placed under ample control, although a stream was kept playing about the building several hours before every vestige was destroyed. Messrs. Everding & Farrell are heavy losers, their total loss aggregating $3,000. Fortunately they are amply insured in a San Francisco company. The building contained large quantities of wheat, wool, hay, salt, potatoes and feed, the most of which are a total loss. Messrs. C. M. Carter and Gov. Grover are the owners of the wharf and warehouse. They estimate their loss at about $1,200. The building is fully insured in the Phœnix Insurance Company. In a few days all the losses will be adjusted.

HOMESICKNESS.—A young lady reached Portland on the steamer last Wednesday night, having come directly from Germany with her brother, who resides in this city, and had gone to Europe on business. The young lady manifested a decided tendency to homesickness before her arrival here, and when she landed, declared she would not stay 24 hours, before she would start back home. All attempts to persuade her to remain were unavailing, and her brother and friends, fearing that she might become deranged if her wishes to go home were not humored, and that she would even attempt her own life, concluded to have her return as soon as possible. Accordingly, on Friday morning, in company with her brother, she started overland for San Francisco, thence to New York, and on to Hamburg, her mother's residence. Her trip to this coast will probably be the quickest ever made from that country, as she remained here only about 30 hours. The brother who came and returned with her, had been away from his family here nearly a year, and he was not near so anxious to return as was his sister, but she was inexorable, and he had to go with her. Her homesickness seemed to be of the incurable type, and with her it was "Fatherland or Heaven."

LIMB FRACTURED. — Karl Johnsen, a Norwegian sailor employed on board the bark Elektra, had his left leg badly fractured on Saturday morning. He was assisting the stevedore's gang in loading the vessel with wheat when the accident happened. Johnsen had been instructed in English how he was expected to perform the work, but his imperfect knowledge of the language prevented his understanding. While standing at the bottom of the chute and in the act of shouldering a sack of grain, another bag came down with tremendous force, and, striking Johnsen's right leg below the knee, snapped the bone short off. It was a very severe and painful fracture, as one end of the broken bone, was driven through the flesh, and the sharp and ragged point protruded several inches beyond the skin of the limb. Dr. Kinney was summoned, and, on examining the injuries, had Johnsen removed at once to St. Vincent's Hospital, where the fracture was reduced. When last heard from the patient was doing well, although he will probably not be able to resume work for many weeks to come.

FEET CUT.—During the fire of yesterday Mr. Frank Brown and G. B. Guillemette, members of Vigilance Hook and Ladder Co., both met with painful accidents. While engaged in chopping holes through the wall of the building to enable the hosemen to more successfully contest with the destroying element, they had the misfortune to cut their feet. Although not serious, the wounds are painful and will require them to remain in doors some days. Immediately after the accident the men were conveyed to their respective homes and the wounds dressed.

LECTURED.—Dr. J. L. York lectured to quite a large and appreciative audience of ladies and gentlemen in Oro Fino Theater yesterday afternoon, on "The Fatherhood of God." In the evening he lectured again to a larger audience on "Jesus and Christianity." The Liberal Association have engaged him to lecture next Sunday, to which all are invited.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.—A dispatch was received on the 17th by Gen. Michler reporting that the water supply at New Dungeness light station has been exhausted, which necessitates the stopping of the fog whistle. The keeper has been directed to strike the fog bell until more water is obtained. There is never much rain falls at this place.

AWARDED CONTRACTS.—The committee on fire and water of the Common Council on Saturday opened the sealed proposals for the construction of two 20,000 gallon fire cisterns at the intersections of North Sixth and D streets and Ninth and Salmon. The contract was awarded to Thomas Mann, at $397 50 each.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Jas. Laidlaw & Co. advertise Dried Fruits, (in boxes of various weights) cured by the Plummer process. Send in orders.

Mr. L. H. Lewis, of the popular "White House," returned overland a few days ago, and the firm of which he is a member announce to-day in an extended advertisement what may be seen among the goods recently selected by Mr. Lewis during his absence in San Francisco. When either of the proprietors take a trip to that city they make it a point to purchase such goods as may be sure to please their numerous patrons. We are not very well posted in the dry goods and millinery trade, but leave the duty of description to those in charge at the establishment over which Messrs. Lewis & Straus preside. In addition to the large stock laid in last week, the steamer to arrive on Wednesday will bring a very large assortment of dress goods, sacques and cloaks, and a full line of millinery goods. The fall opening of the millinery goods will take place on Thursday, to continue three days. If the ladies wish something stylish and elegant, they should by all means visit the White House.

Prof. McGibeny's kindergarten singing class will meet every day at 3 P. M.; his juvenile vocal class at 4:30. Parents and friends of musical culture are cordially invited to visit these classes.

Give yourself a treat by going to Fabre & Barnes', Central Market to-day.

POSTAL MATTERS.

The new postoffice is now open for business. Entrances on Fifth and Yamhill streets.

Postmaster Cole desires that holders of boxes call at the new office to-day before 3:30 o'clock and exchange keys. If this request is complied with the clerks will be able to perform the work of distribution in the boxes with greater satisfaction to all concerned. To save trouble, it would be well to have some change in hand to pay for extra keys, if they should be desired by the boxholder.

Mr. Lyman Chittenden continues as deputy postmaster in the new postoffice. He has been in the service for many years, and has proved himself a most accommodating official. In addition to this gentleman, we find N. S. Pierce, Chas. VanHouten, Page Stevens and Fred. Cole. The following gentlemen are connected with the office as route agents: E. D. Thorne, Chas. Mulkey and Israel Graden on the O. & C. R. R.; J. B. Welsh, Chas. Cole and Arthur Hillman, on the N. P. R. R.; Al. Hussey, on the O. C. R. R. We have found them all very polite and accommodating, and we believe this is the general impression of those having business with the persons mentioned. On the 1st proximo, the lately appointed route agents on the Portland and Astoria route, B. B. Tuttle and D. H. Jones, will assume the duties assigned to them.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

Present appearances indicate that there will be a full "matinee" this morning. The following persons are now in jail and will be called for trial this morning:

Mr. Lassen, for contempt of court in failing to appear as a witness.

The following persons are all in durance vile for being found drunk: John Harrison, Frank Austin, Wm. Colman, Jerry Buckley, Quinn and Jno. Snooks.

On complaint of a Chinese damsel, bearing the poetical name of Ah Foo, Mrs. Burns was arrested for throwing a quantity of coal oil on the person of the prosecuting witness.

Cecelia Levy, proprietress of a low and disreputable bagnio, on First street, preferred a charge of larceny conjointly against Mollie Cotton, Mike Sullivan and John Doe. Complainant accuses these defendants of stealing the sum of $180 in coin and a check calling for $500.

BRIEF NOTES.

Ye gentle dews of Webfoot were descending yesterday.

The steamer Idaho, with a full freight from San Francisco, arrived here last night.

Little Mollie was the winner of the race which came off over the Riverside course, on Saturday afternoon.

To-day the state circuit court will convene at 9 o'clock; U. S. circuit court to-day, and U. S. district court will convene to-morrow.

During the fire yesterday, the bark Elektra, which was lying near the foot of Alder street, was hauled some distance out into the stream to escape danger.

A document from Glasgow, Scotland, reached the postoffice in this city Saturday night, addressed, "Mr. ——, Portland, Oregon, British Columbia, America."

AMUSEMENTS.

Matinee on Saturday afternoon—third presentation of the "Orphan Girl"—drew a large and appreciative audience. The drama was rendered quite acceptably, as also was the farce concluding the entertainment. In the evening the drama was presented for the last time to a fair house. Following the play came the tableau of "Elaine," an exhibition of fancy and comic skating by Mr. Morris and concluding with the rib-tickling farce of "Bombastes Furioso." We are gratified to state that the proceeds of the four entertainments are quite substantial, and that the society will realize a neat little sum.

PERSONAL.

We observe, by reference to the hotel arrivals, that Mr. Willis Drummond, of Washington City, is now in Portland.

Mr. R. C. Corbaley, of San Francisco, agent of the house of A. L. Bancroft & Co., arrived in this city Saturday evening by the Cascades boat, after an extended tour through Idaho, Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory, looking after the business of the house with which he is connected.

BALL AND BAT.

The Atlantics, of this city, were "Waterlooed," though they had a strong nine to oppose their visiting club from Vancouver. The game took place last Saturday at the East Portland grounds, and the score stood: Spartans 30, Atlantic 27. This gives the honors to the Spartans, having won the first game. Mr. G. D. Snow umpired the game.

IN MEMORIAM.

The following resolutions relative to the death of Walter B Joyce who was drowned in the river at this city during the past week, were on yesterday reported by his Sunday school teacher and class mates to the Hall street Methodist Sunday school and adopted by a rising vote:

WHEREAS, Walter Banks Joyce, a beloved member of our school, has by a dispensation of divine providence been suddenly called from time into eternity,

Resolved, That in Walter Banks Joyce we had a faithful member of our school, a loved and affectionate class mate, and one whose pleasing countenance and joyous vivacity we sadly miss from his accustomed place.

Resolved, That as officers, teachers, class mates and members of the Hall street Methodist Sunday school, we hereby tender to the parents, brothers and sisters of our departed little friend our heartfelt sympathy in this their great bereavement, and with sorrowful condolence commend them to that consolation which He only "who tempers the wind to the shorn lambs" can furnish and impart.

Send it home. We mean a picture and a description of our new postoffice building. It appeared in No. 1 of The West Shore. All bookstores have it for sale.

The office and warerooms of the Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Company have been removed to their new building, First and Yamhill streets.

The first invoice of fall and winter goods arrived on the last steamer and are now arranged in order so that JOS. KOHN'S numerous customers can call and see all that is new and attractive in the clothing line. The styles displayed are the very latest in the market and must prove quite saleable. Fresh arrivals every steamer, selected expressly for the trade by Mr. Kohn, who knows just what will please his patrons. Call to day and make your purchases.

—PERSONAL —Mr. M. Rosenblatt, of 79 Front street, returned last evening on the John L. Stephens, from San Francisco, with a large stock of Clothing, etc., for gentlemen and youths. His stock is worthy of inspection by all who desire a first class article. Be sure and call on him, and recollect the number.

BECK & WALDMAN have added largely to their stock of Clothing during the past week. Mr. Beck has selected many new and attractive styles and forwarded the first purchases, which are really the best to be seen in Portland. The variety of styles for youths are numerous, and no parent should fail to examine the arrivals. Take your boy and have him fitted. The firm have an immense stock for the fall and winter and offer special inducements to all.

AN INTERMEDDLING NUISANCE.

PORTLAND, Sept. 16, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The man who went through the High School on last Thursday, during the first part of the afternoon session, talking in a very boisterous manner and making inquiries of the scholars regarding the price of books, should invest in a dime book on etiquette: If he is too penurious to buy one, the scholars may furnish him one on condition that he read and practice it. Apart from the bad taste of his conduct, he deserves censure for the annoyance, if not disturbance, which he caused. It is not right that this ruffian should repeat this performance. He announced, without leave, to the school, that he bought his books at Kafka's. The scholars think he can buy his there, but object to be disturbed in their studies by such persons, who are not now directors, and such pen-ny saving characters.

The local money market is still ruling quite close and heavy transactions in the way of loans or discounts are out of the question. That this closeness is retarding the exportation of the surplus crop of the state is true, but we think that the volume of our shipments will not be lessened as there is every reason to believe that there will soon be at least a fairly adequate supply of capital to conduct the full shipping business, and that the apparent scarcity now prevalent will soon give way to a tolerably easy condition in financial circles, both at San Francisco and in this city.

The Wheat Trade.

There is a large volume to the movement of wheat towards tide water and though the various warehouses on the river and along the two lines of railroad are nearly filled, but few lots, comparatively, are changing hands. A great many farmers express a willingness to sell at least a portion of their ... what is equivalent to $1 10 per cental, or ... per bushel, without sacks, at Salem or any other point as near Portland. A buyer is once in a while found who is willing to give the price asked, to fill an order or complete a cargo, but exporters claim that it would not be a wise speculation to take a vessel at the current rates for tonnage, with the calculation of loading her at anything above our quotations given elsewhere. There seems recently to have been very heavy arrivals of breadstuffs in the English markets for the season, and the prices have been constantly borne down for a fortnight past by these heavy receipts and by the favorable turn in the crop prospects. The latter circumstance tends to reduce the probabilities of a high price throughout the season, but the present rush of grain to these markets may be more than offset by the reduced surplus which some of the principal grain growing countries of the world will have for export from this year's harvest.

The condition of the cereal received here so far has been quite as fine as on former years, but we learn that some lots occasionally contain a sack or more in which the grain has been slightly discolored by the dampness. Farmers cannot be too careful in this matter, as a little wet wheat will spoil a large quantity of good, and an occasional damaged sack may weaken greatly the chances of a good sale of an entire car-load or more. Buyers for shipment to Europe are usually as careful in their examinations, and as strict in refusing all which does not rate first class, as are the millers who grind for the home market. We find our exchanges from different points in this valley note the fact that the receipts at the various warehouses are quite heavy. The Mercury, of Salem, says:

Wheat continues coming rapidly into town, and at almost any hour of the day long strings of loaded teams can be seen at the Farmers' warehouse and Kinney's mill. The receipts at the warehouse range from 3,500 to 5,000 bushels per day. A shipment of 40,000 bushels was made a few days since and some 80,000 bushels are now in store. Kinney Bros. have about 100,000 bushels in their warehouse. The quality of wheat this year is reported to be above average and samples sent away have received high commendation.

The Statesman of the same place says "the amount of wheat coming in from Polk county ranges from 1,000 to 1,500 bushels daily."

At Eugene City, 18,000 bushels is an estimate of the amount of wheat being delivered at the several warehouses daily. The Guard of last Saturday says there were then in Whitney & Co.'s warehouse about 30,000 bushels; in Berry's about 15,000, and he has shipped about 5,000; in Rhea's warehouse there is about 10,000 bushels and a considerable amount in Ebbert's and the Farmers' warehouses. Buyers yesterday were offering 82 cents, with a prospect of further decline.

At almost every shipping point on the river and on both railroads the receipts are heavy and the warehouses filling up. A gentleman who is familiar with the business informs us that a very large quantity of wheat is offered for sale at anywhere within 50 miles of Portland the price asked is $1 per bushel, and should events make it possible for shippers to see anything in the cereal at that figure the rush to the market would quickly exhaust all available means of transportation, but except that figure be paid many large farmers will not sell at present any more than is necessary to enable them to pay off their bills for harvesting, etc., preferring to store the bulk of their surplus and await the turn of the market.

The Farmer, of Salem, claims to have private advices from Liverpool to the effect that there was no decline in the price of wheat in that market the past week, which is contrary to the telegrams to individuals here, and the reports to all the newspapers on the coast except the Farmer. The same journal speaks of our wheat quotations being $1 75 per cental, and says that 100 tons had been sold at $1 80. The fact is that we happen to know of the sale to which the Farmer refers, and on the very day it was made, our quotations were $1 80 per cental, but the Farmer to make a point takes our quotations of the second day after the sale in question. Besides, if the editor of that paper will read our reports of the past week he will find that $1 10 has been paid here, instead of $1 80, as he quotes, but there have also been some lots bought at $1 65, $1 70 and $1 75.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions, and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching, and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Buckingham's Dye,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown, or black at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Great Storm at Galveston.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.—A Times special, from Information obtained from papers and passengers, gives the following news of the storm at Galveston: To briefly summarize the disaster: A gale from the south by Wednesday midday reached such proportions that captains of steamers, accustomed for generations to traverse this portion of the Gulf, declined to put to sea. Almost simultaneously with this determination, came a report that a ship-yard at the extreme east end of the island had been inundated, and men were fleeing for their lives. A rapidly falling barometer indicated an increase of the storm, and the water of the Gulf, which is on the south side of the island and in the rear of the city, gradually commenced to encroach on the center of scattered residences bordering on the beach, and soon overflowed them. The water during the day reached a depth of two feet. All day long and during Thursday, it blew a hurricane, pushing the Gulf water over the entire island, and covering even higher elevations to a depth of two feet and a half. This ridge embraces an area of perhaps twelve blocks, and extending from Mechanic street to Market, a distance of two squares latitudinally from Center street to the back avenue, and about six squares longitudinally. In the entire rear, east and west ends of the city the water rose to a sufficient depth to float large wooden edifices, many of which are very valuable. The residence portion of the city was most affected. From Tremont street, where this section begins, for a distance of a mile and a half west, every garden and every foundation is destroyed. Domiciles are scattered promiscuously in the center of thoroughfares, many of them being jammed together. Farther to the west, in the neighborhood of Oleander Park, where there are many small farms and a number of stylish residences, the water is reported to have reached a depth of from six to nine feet. A similar story is told of the eastern end of the island, which extends from Center street a mile. In the business section large stocks of goods are kept on ground floors, and one can estimate the injury which thirty inches of sea water would involve. It is fair to presume that the earnings of the entire year will be exhausted in repairing damages. Probably vegetation has been utterly destroyed, but that the island is involved in wholesale ruin we do not apprehend.

Westervelt Convicted.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—The jury in the Westervelt case returned a verdict of guilty on the last three counts of the indictment. A motion for a new trial has been made.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—The jury in the Westervelt case returned a verdict of guilty on the last three counts of the indictment. As the words fell from the foreman's lips, Westervelt cried aloud and sank down into the dock completely overcome and sobbing like a child. His wife and children joined their cries and lamentations to his, and the scene was a most affecting one. Mr Ford immediately moved for arrest of judgment and a new trial. Judge Elcock has allowed four days for argument. The first two counts on which the prisoner is acquitted, charge a participation in the actual abduction of Charley Ross. The last three, on which he is convicted, charge a conspiracy to conceal, and guilty knowledge...

Insurance Meeting.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The sixth annual session of the convention of National Insurance Companies opened to-day. Hon. Orlow A. Chapman called the body to order. Delegates present were: President Orlow A. Chapman, insurance commissioner of New York; Secretary Oliver Pillsbury, of New Hampshire; Samuel H. Raw, of Michigan; General Gustavus W. Smith, of Kentucky; O. T. Welch, of Kansas; J. M. Forster, of Pennsylvania; Samuel R. Rhodes, of Massachusetts. The ... were instructed delegates to hand their credentials to the executive committee, who would report on them to-morrow. Three vacancies in the executive committee were filled by the election of Messrs. Rhodes, Forster and John A. BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Turkish Troubles.

KRAGUYEVATZ, Sept. 20.—In compliance with the urgent desire of Prince Milan, deliberations of the committee appointed to consider the address in reply to his speech, will be submitted to the chamber of deputies, in secret session. Debates in the chamber will also, at the request of the prince, be kept secret. It is not yet known what will be the tone of the address. A Servian newspaper says that the government has received a note from the Sublime Porte, asking if Turkey may rely upon the maintenance of Servian neutrality. The Servian government has not yet replied. The debate in skuptchina on the address in reply to Prince Milan's speech, has commenced. The session is bad with closed doors.

KRAGUYEVATZ, Sept. 20.—It is rumored that the address of the Skuptchina does not mention the object of war but a special address to Prince Milan will be proposed wherein the house will ask the government to declare war. It is asserted that the government will leave the initiative to the nation.

Advices from Bosnia report an engagement yesterday between 2,500 insurgents and a Turkish brigade, which resulted in the retreat of the Turks. The insurrection continues to spread.

In the Skuptchina to-day, the address in reply to Prince Milan, reported by the committee, was adopted by a vote of 71 yeas to 41 nays. The document simply paraphrases the prince's speech regarding the Turkish troubles, and contains no war-like declaration. It will be presented to the prince to-morrow.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—A special from Berlin says the Porte is endeavoring to impress on foreign powers the necessity of fixing a date for the termination of consular mediation with the insurgent camps. The Turkish government, in view of possible military requirements, has ordered the construction of the Sophia, Nisch and Banja Luka railway, to be pushed with the utmost dispatch.

A telegram from Vienna expresses the opinion that now the Turks have had time to occupy, in force, the Bosnian frontier, the chances of renewing the insurrection in Bosnia have vanished. The Turks now have a force of 18,000 men concentrated on the frontier of Servia.
